Captain Clary, of the DeSoto engine not finding him at the end of a tele-

A heavy fall of rain was experienced along the Missouri river last night, the measurement at Omaha being 1.56 inches. A distribution of the same kind over this immediate vicinity would be doubly welcome at the present time.

The people of Kerrville, up the Paducah railway, are happy over their first cotton bloom, a beautiful cream-colored, healthy looking affair found in George Hays' cotton patch yesterday morning. The patch and Hays are doing as well as could be expected.

At sunrise this morning the mercury in the shade recorded 85 degrees, and 7 warmer than yesterday at the same time. Its highest yesterday was 95-2-100, and lowest 93. Last night it was very close and oppressive, the mercury at 9 o'clock being 87 and no wind from any quarter.

The friends of Mrs. S. B. Suratt of this city, will be pained to hear that while taking a buggy drive with her son Flournoy, near Corinth, Miss., on Saturday the 18th inst., the horse took fright and ran away, dashing the buggy to pieces, and injuring her very seriously, though not fatally.

To see the lightning flash all around us, while inky clouds move sluggishly along the distant horizon, and then read of heavy thunder and rain storms through Ohio, Kentucky and other northern regions, is slightly pleasant, but if we could only enjoy a little of the same it would be more refreshing.

Back taxes on city property for '78 to Collector Meriwether in scrips and other items cheaper than cash.

After the end of the present month bills will be filed against delinquents, and then nothing but the clean cash with a big lot of penalties will square an account.

Twelve cents on the one hundred dollars is the tax on property in this city for lighting the street lamps when the moon don't shine at night, and the authorities have contracted with the gas company to do the illumination part for ten-twelfths of the amount.

The rest of it will doubtless be expended in making collections.

Fair weather in the west gulf states, local rains in the Tennessee, Ohio and the lower Missouri valleys, with cooler breezes from the northeast, is the signal service weather predictions for to-day. From this programme it is doubtful about our experiencing relief from the intense heat or dryness in this vicinity to-day or even to morrow.

A couple of Causey street females unseasonable hours.

The first concealed weapon carrier arrested this month was registered at the police headquarters on Sunday.

The array of witnesses in court yesterday was something startling. They all did a fearful amount of sweating, gesticulating and hard swearing.

The warm weather seems to have a startling belligerent effect, from the number of small fights on trivial ac-

Six persons, male and female, who

A bullet-headed colored youth, went through his pockets.

A beer saloon hummer, who has Third Day of Examinations at the Christian Brothers' College.

The third collegiate and first intermediate classes were examined at the college hall. Not only do the parents realize the advantage of these public examinations, but the students seem to be full of ambition, as is evidenced by their desire to reply, and the correctness of their answers. The declamations by Masters H. Reder, John Denegau, G. Gronauer, T. Kelly, Hugh Bryson, George Hook, Archie Oakley, Connie Bruce and Otto Belsthoff were very creditably delivered.

The intense heat prevented the attendance of the usually large crowds at the examinations.

No Excursion.
The St. Mary's church people, a large number of which collected on board of the steamer Vint Shinkle for a river excursion last night, enjoyed ice cream, lemonade, and dancing refreshments on board at the landing, the boat not leaving the wharf. It was after midnight before the cargo of the vessel was out, and then the stringent rules enforced by U. S. inspectors, which apply to excursion boats, would have prevented the boat departure even though no freight had been on board. It was sweltering hot on the boat as it lay at the landing, but many of the guests appeared to enjoy that as well as incidental recreation.

Sunday Night's Fire.
The candy shanty on Beal street, near Main, which was destroyed by fire late Sunday night, damaged the Second Presbyterian church quite seriously. The upholstery within is burned full of holes and nearly ruined by water, and the rear windows were seriously charred and blackened.

The shanty, worth a hundred dollars or such a matter, with its contents, was insured in the St. Louis Central company for $225. Mr. Herman Brenner, a youthful German, the proprietor of the shanty, the candy and other plunder, says he was not at home at the time the place was burned, having left the premises some time before the alarm was sounded.
He claims the stock of candy on hand was worth $75 or more, and that nothing had been removed on Saturday, as had been stated. He sold candy at the stand late Sunday evening. It was reported in the vicinity that an explosion, as if a lamp had burst, was heard about the time the fire broke forth, and that some one, supposed to be sleeping within, had hustled out in great haste in undress uniform to keep from being scorched, but Mr. Brenner says that nobody slept within the structure except himself, and he was up town at the time.
Mr. Brenner bought the shanty some eight months ago, and his supply of candy was made on Washington street, none being manufactured on the premises.

Miss Conway's School.
The programme for to-day of Miss Conway's school, on Adams street, which appeared in yesterday's LED-GER, attracted a large crowd this forenoon, and it was carried out with spirit and promptness, much to the satisfaction and pleasure of all present.

The parents and friends of the pupils were highly delighted with the evidences of culture and progress. Tomorrow will be commencement day proper, and will doubtless draw a still larger crowd.

Fine Live Stock.
"Mark Twain," a fine imported porker brought to this section to improve the stock of hogs, was seen on the streets yesterday and attracted considerable attention. He was bred by Heber Humphreys, of England, and imported by T. S. Cooper, of Pennsylvania, of whom he was bought by Mr. Robert Hagerty, who lives in this county on Nonconah creek, near the Mississippi river. This specimen of the swine family is six feet four inches long, and weighs 800 pounds, and is a magnificent specimen of his kind. Mr. Hagerty has undertaken to build up a fine live stock farm at his place, which is only a few miles south of the city, and has already made quite a start. It is just as cheap after the start is once made to raise a fine hog as an old fashioned razor back and when raised it is worth and will command a handsome price in the market. Stock raising can be made very profitable in the south, and in many instances will pay far better than cotton growing or insurance. There is a tendency toward this kind of enterprise which should be stimulated and encouraged. It is to diversified industries and productions that we must look for permanent prosperity, and there is no reason why Shelby county should not lead off and set an example for the surrounding country. Quite a number of our farmers have turned their attention to the raising of blooded stock, and we would be glad at any time to hear from them, and learn what progress they are making. The columns of the LEDGER are open to them and at their service.

Miss Grace Lewellyn's Classes—
Miss Conway's School.

Memphis has rarely enjoyed so pleasant a school entertainment as that offered the throng of visitors that filled the large rooms of Miss Conway's school this morning, the occasion being the closing exercises of Miss Grace Lewellyn's classes. Miss Lewellyn's well-known reputation as a teacher was a sufficient guarantee of something far beyond the average, but even her best friends were surprised and delighted this morning beyond expectation. Eloquence is a broad term, including as it does, not only voice culture, but gesture, facial expression, pose and self-poise. Every detail had been carefully studied, and the result was a success of which Miss Lewellyn may be justly proud.

There is a very strong temptation to particularize, remembering as we do the fine dramatic style of many of the young elocutionists, but want of time and space forbids. Much of the pleasure afforded the audiences yesterday and to-day was due to the exquisite singing of Miss Susie Greenwood. This young lady, by patience, care and industry, will achieve such triumphs in the future as are rarely attained except by the eminent. The first prize for scholarship was won by Gussie Kortrecht, the second by Hattie Lowenstein. Miss Conway awarded prizes to Patty Hammond, Jeannie Welford and Nannie May Daniel. The writing prize was won by Alfred Mason. A class of twenty children drew for the conduct prize, and about as many more for the French prize. The large and well pleased audience went home feeling that Miss Lewellyn deserved the success she has won.

curred last Saturday night on the corner of Beal and DeSoto streets, over the Red Light saloon. When the rival the noise suddenly ceased. Only four of a howling half-hundred, could be identified as the fighters.

Before the Star Routes Began.
From Harper's Magazine.] A Postmaster Buchanan, finding by his "inspectors" that he was to report quarterly, addressed the following official communication of the

Mr. James Buchanan President of the

DEAR SIR:—Been required by the instructions of the post office to report
